Headline:
Sunny spells on Monday. Scattered showers developing, some heavy.

Today:
Dry and bright start although the Buchan coast may see some low cloud and patchy rain at first. Some showers will develop, becoming heavy at times later. Light winds so it will feel quite warm when the sun comes out. Maximum temperature 16 deg C (61 deg F).

Tonight:
A few showers lingering overnight and quite a lot of low cloud forming especially around Aberdeenshire, the Moray coast will see a drier and clearer night. Minimum temperature 6 deg C (43 deg F).

Tuesday:
Cloudy conditions should clear with quite a bright morning, some showers popping up in the afternoon once again, some quite heavy. Maximum temperature 15 deg C (59 deg F).

Outlook for Wednesday to Friday:
A mix of sunshine and showers but often quite cloudy around the Aberdeenshire coast with haar forming in lighter winds. Feeling warm where the sun is out.
